

Many a Man Who Claims to Be Listening For the Voice of Conscience Gets Onto the Wrong Line, Judging By the Results Which Show Up

EX-PRESIDENT DID NOT GIVE VATICAN SQUARE DEAL

So Declares Archbishop O'Connell of Boston

AN INSULT TO POPE

O'Loughlin Denounced as a Catholic Who Tells the World His Church Is Wrong

Lowell, Mass., May 2.—Theodore Roosevelt's action in not meeting Pope Pius X on the former president's recent visit to Rome was called insulting and a violation of Mr. Roosevelt's principle of a "square deal" by the Most Rev. William H. O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, at a public meeting of the American Federation of Catholic societies of the diocese in this city yesterday. John Callahan O'Loughlin, former assistant secretary of state, who conducted the negotiations between Mr. Roosevelt and the vatican, was likewise severely castigated by the archbishop who declared that Mr. O'Loughlin had "played the part of Judas" and was "the sort of Catholic that we are ashamed of."

The archbishop's general subject was "loyalty." In bringing up the Vatican incident he spoke as follows: "In what I am going to say I am absolutely no personal feeling about Mr. Roosevelt, nor any political feeling. Personally, I know Mr. Roosevelt quite well, and until a very short time ago had a good deal of friendly feeling toward him. I am talking upon the thing as an abstract principle. If the one who did it was of a high station, so much the worse for him, because people in high stations must be careful in what they do."

After describing the Vatican as the oldest and most honorable court in the world, to which a man "in decency must go at least in a friendly attitude," Archbishop O'Connell spoke of the visit of ex-President Fairbanks to Rome and discussed the Methodist College in Rome, making it clear that he was making no reference to Methodists in the United States.

"I am holding responsible those who are in charge of that institution and that institution has for many years been the center of the world which happened about the Methodist of the very vilest kind against the Holy Father, who (church of which he is the head, and of the Catholic principles, forgetting that the state religion of Italy is the Catholic and making it clear that he was making no reference to Methodists in the United States.

"The Cardinal Secretary of State, Merry del Val, when asked for an audience for Mr. Roosevelt, said the Holy Father would be very happy to receive him, because he has been the head of a great nation, and for which the Holy Father has every respect. He also said: 'When you communicate that to him please say we hope nothing will interfere with this desire on behalf of the Holy Father and Mr. Roosevelt of seeing each other, as, for instance, this morning you would have said, 'No, Holy Father, I come to you, I stand for honor and reverence and the high and capable, as an honest man, in any way participate or have anything to do with this institution.'"

"Now, Mr. Roosevelt has always said and has given us to understand that he is very fond of Catholics and he liked them very much. We will let that pass. We suppose it is true. If it were true, then, Mr. Roosevelt, why did you dare insult the Holy Father, the Pope? Why did you dare to pass over the common rights of man, to turn down an offer of hospitality from the Holy Father, the head of the great Catholic church, whom we revere as the Vicar of Christ? Now, Mr. Roosevelt, do you really love us? If so, you have shown your affection for us a very strange way. The Vatican knew perfectly well that at once there would be oceans of vilifications heaped upon him and Mr. Roosevelt allowed him to be so treated."

"The Vatican is loyal, and yet there is an example of disloyalty in that very incident which stands forever as history."

"It is in the case of John Callahan O'Loughlin. Who is he? He says he is Catholic, and he boasts of it and in the same breath he cables all over the world that the head of his church is wrong, and Mr. Roosevelt is the greatest thing in creation. That is the sort of a Catholic that we are ashamed of. John O'Loughlin, who seems to be looking for a job and is willing to sacrifice the things that he holds most sacred for this party work, which he hopes may be his way."

"It will live to see the day that he regret these words, for there never was a man yet in the history of the world who played the part of Judas."

MRS. R. A. McCURDY DEAD

She Expires Suddenly at the Family Home at Morristown, N. J.

Morristown, N. J., May 2.—Sarah Ellen McCurdy, wife of Richard A. McCurdy, former president of the Mutual Life Insurance company, died suddenly of heart disease at the home of the McCurdys yesterday. She was in her 74th year.

BASEBALL BUNTS

Pitcher Mooney, who hails from Housack Falls, N. Y. has drawn his release from the Hartford club in the Connecticut league and is reported to have signed with Pittsfield.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute was beaten 9 to 2 by Fordham at New York Saturday. "Chris" Mahoney the former Pittsfield player, allowed the Rensselaer students a lone hit in five innings and then retired. Ingless was at center for Rensselaer. Waters did not play.

The Bennington baseball men are satisfied that the directors of the Pittsfield team acted fairly in the Hickey matter. But then there is one North Adams sporting writer yet to be convinced. This done everything will be all right and Hickey will be a side partner to Maurice Kennedy and Peter Engen in the outer garden at Waconah park.—The Referee in the Pittsfield Eagle.

Wilcox who has been with Fall River this season, arrived in North Adams Wednesday and will stay until the morning of the 10th. He was last year in the Connecticut league and at the close of its season pitched both for Pittsfield and North Adams. He was under the impression that the season opened in North Adams next week and came on at once.

The Troy State League team played the All Stars a 13 to 9 game Saturday afternoon at the Center Island grounds. "Matty" Killeen played at center field for the All Stars. He made one of the six hits for his team.

Morgan, the former Pittsfield backstop caught an errorless game for the leaguers and scored three of the runs.

Manager E. S. Higgins has settled one important question for the coming season, that of the man who is to hold the indicator. "Jack" Kennedy of North Adams, who umpired nearly all of the games last season and who gave the best satisfaction of any man on the job, was in town Saturday night and completed arrangements to officiate for Bennington during the coming season.

Guy Prindle, the Williamstown boy who was badly injured at the Williams baseball practice a few weeks ago has returned to college. For some time after the accident Prindle had been unable to do anything, that happened but his memory returned a few days ago. His physician and family had decided that it would be better for him to give up his studies for the year but he has now fully recovered and he will resume his work with the freshman class.

Catcher Burrington of the Vermont University team in a recent letter to Manager Higgins gives the impression that he would like to join the Bennington team for another season. Manager Higgins endeavored to secure Burrington some months ago but the Vermont player apparently had the idea that he is capable of playing in faster company. Manager Higgins realizes that the baseball public of Bennington would like nothing better than to see the 1909 battery, Haynes and Burrington, with the team this year and has made every possible effort to land it. Should the Vermont team be retained in Burlington during the summer as the representative of that city in the proposed revised Northern league it is more than probable that both Haynes and Burrington will remain with their present team mates.

Pardon us if we have cause for jubilation in the fact that efforts to revive the Northern league of baseball clubs in this state are meeting with more general support than was expected. With a four-team league consisting of clubs at Keeseville, Montpelier, Burlington and Rutland, the sport would be placed on something like the old basis. Fans in this vicinity include men, women and children from all walks of life and there is no more healthful recreation than that of witnessing a good, snappy baseball game between clubs which know how to handle the spheres, bats and bats artistically.—Rutland Herald.

If the old Northern league should be organized there would be a grand crowd of players and fans to take a trip up the state for the purpose of demonstrating the correct method of playing the game.

SANITY NOT PROVED

Ray Mullen Re-Committed to State Prison at Windsor.

Montpelier, May 2.—Washington county court Judge Butler dismissed the petition of Ray Mullen, yesterday, that he be released from the State prison at Windsor because he is now sane, and he ordered Mullen recommitted to the custody of the superintendent of the prison until further order of the court. The court stated that no proof had been submitted that Mullen is now sane and a safe person to be at large.

Judge Butler has also filed the formal order committing James Mikala to the state hospital for the insane until further orders of the court. Mikala is committed as a state patient.

that didn't in the end pay for it and Mr. Callan O'Loughlin who is insincere will live on.

"Mr. Roosevelt is shrewd and knows that that kind of a Catholic is not a Catholic at all, and we know that the Federation will keep out of public office such men as this. If our neighbors wish to honor Catholics by high positions in their government we must insist that they must be real Catholics and not John Callan O'Loughlin."

OBJECTS TO BEING FEATURED AT A BALL GAME

Street Car Placard Says "Go See Taft"

PRESIDENT DOESN'T LIKE IT

Thins Advertising His as Chief Attraction Is "Nearly the Limit"

Pittsburg, May 1.—President Taft has serious objections to being featured as the drawing attraction at a baseball game, even though it does mean money in the pocket of another member of the Taft family. When the president arrived in Pittsburg on Sunday morning practically the first advertising sign with which he was confronted was on the front of a street car. The president was in his auto on the way to the home of Mrs. Thomas K. Laughlin, his sister-in-law where he is a guest while here, when he read the sign.

"Go see Taft," it read in letters a foot high, and in smaller letters followed "At the ball game."

With President Taft when he saw the sign advertising him as the main attraction were Mayor William A. Magee and William McGowan of the reception committee appointed by the America club at whose banquet the president will deliver an address this evening. They had met him at East Liberty, a suburban station.

A MUSICAL ABSURDITY

"Billy the Boy Artist"—Ticket Sale Begins This Evening

Laying no claim to anything but a successful effort to amuse, "Billy the Boy Artist" comes to the Bennington opera house on Wednesday and Thursday of next week with a big scenic production and a fine company of musical comedy experts. Each of the 22 song numbers and dances is a gem in itself and each of the dozen or more principals is an expert in the art of fun making.

"Billy the Boy Artist" is rightly said to be just a swish, a kick and a roar of laughter from its tuneful chorus with the Rubie quartet to the hilarity in the photograph gallery at the end of the last act. It propounds no theories nor teaches no moral lessons—just answers in a welcome manner the question of how to laugh and grow happy.

Specialty engaged for this big company the big vaudeville specialty act "The Two Graces" that is boys surprising and delighting audiences everywhere.

The parts of Professors O. Howe and I. B. Schmart are exceptionally well played and the charms of Miss Maud Parker and Miss Ethel Nason as Maud Goldington and Pansy Blossom add wonderfully to the success of three of the big song hits of the show "The Love Game," "Wading," and "The Skyline and the Star." The production of "Billy" for this engagement at popular prices is an effort toward the meeting the public demand for the best possible entertainment at prices within the means of everybody.

THREE FROZEN IN RIGGING

Captain of Wrecked Schooner Died Just Before Rescuers Reached Him

Seattle, Wash., April 30.—A cable dispatch from Seward, Alaska, gives details of the loss of the cod-fishing schooner Stanley on March 28, when she went on the rocks of Sanak Island.

When a rescue party reached the wreck they found the bodies of Capt Koehler and Mate Hauers and William frozen stiff in the rigging. The cook had been swept overboard and drowned. Five of the crew who survived jumped overboard the day after the schooner went on the reef and were picked up by dories that put out from the shore.

The rescuers made a valiant attempt to save the lives of the three men who were lashed to the rigging but they were unsuccessful. Capt. Koehler died just before the rescuers reached him.

TRYING OUT THE MONORAIL

Alaska Making Experiments With New Transportation Invention

The first practical demonstration of Louis Brennan's monorail invention was to be made in Alaska, where a system of monorail railroads will be built connecting several camps. Exclusive rights to use this car in Alaska have been granted to an American syndicate represented by J. E. Ballantine of Seattle and a firm of New York bankers. The syndicate has agreed to build 100 miles of railway within one year.

NORD ALEXIS IS DEAD

Aged ex-President of Haiti Spent Last Days in Exile in Jamaica.

Kingston, Jamaica, May 2.—Nord Alexis, banished ex-President of Haiti, died here yesterday. The old negro ruler had been considerably broken by the experiences of the last year and a half, after he was deposed from the Presidency and sent into exile.

He had been a refugee here since the revolution of 1899 and was possessed of considerable property in Kingston.

MAY BAR MULATTOS TOO

Louisiana Legislation to Be Asked to Extend Concubinage Law

New Orleans, April 30.—It was definitely announced by District Attorney Adams here yesterday that no further action would be taken regarding the decision of the state supreme court holding that the concubinage law of Louisiana applied only to negroes and not to mulattoes.

Instead of continued further legal fighting in this direction the legislature convening next month will be asked to amend the law so as to make it apply to all persons of any recognized degree of negro blood.

MILK WAR IN VERMONT

Farmers Organize to Keep Up Winter Prices.

Brattleboro, May 2.—The milk war, which is interesting to large number of producers throughout New England, has spread to Windham county, and the farmers of Brattleboro, Putney, Dummerston and Westminster, and Chesterfield and Westmoreland, N. H. have organized to protect their interests toward keeping up the rates paid by the large Boston contractors and distributors of milk.

At present two cars are run daily through this section, one being started by Alden & Sons from Bellows Falls, the other passing north from Brattleboro, operated by the Boston Dairy company. Together these cars gather approximately 17,500 quarts of milk daily. A price of 32 cents a can has been paid by the company for milk, and a proposed reduction in this rate to 25 cents a can is the cause of the trouble.

When the car routes were first started a large withdrawal in the milk supply was made from the country creameries, this working to their disadvantage to a great degree, but should the distributors cut the rate May 1, will find all the southern Vermont producers returning their output to the creameries.

A local branch of the Boston Co-operative association has been formed with Walter F. Walker of Dummerston as chairman and J. B. Ramsey of Westminster as clerk. This association will act in conjunction with the Boston association.

The farmers claim that 25 cents a can of eight and a half quarts is much too low, and they will not recede from the stand they have taken as regards a continuance of the winter price schedule of 32 cents. The Alden company has built and stocked several ice houses along their route, and the farmers, according to the statements of the farmers, is willing to pay more than the 25 cents offered by the other Boston distributors, providing they are able to do so.

BUCKET SHOPS HARD HIT

Many Places Other Than These Affected by Federal Suit Closed

Results already have been accomplished indirectly by the crusade of the Department of Justice against the bucket shop business. In addition to the offices affected by the indictments against a number of principals, scores of honest men in the Middle West have closed their doors, and others are expected to follow. The government is putting forth every effort to bring to Washington for trial the persons now under the ban and hopes to have the cases well in hand in time for the fall term of the district courts. Should the efforts of the department toward breaking up the business entirely prove unavailing by prosecution under existing laws, it is said that new legislation will be asked of Congress. This probably will take the form of making it an offense to communicate between the states by wire or otherwise information intended for the purpose of conducting or maintaining a bucket-shop and also making it an offense to lease wires for the purpose.

YOUNG KNOX AT HOME

Received There With His Bride—Secretary Away With Taft

Washington, April 30.—Philander C. Knox, Jr., arrived in Washington yesterday with his wife, who was Miss May Bolter, the department store girl of Providence, R. I., whom young Knox married last month against his father's advice.

Young Knox and his bride were received at the residence of the secretary of state. The elder Mrs. Knox is in mourning and is not expected to enjoy entertaining for her daughter-in-law. Young Knox and his brother and sister-in-law, Mrs. Reed Knox are also staying at the Knox home. The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Reed Knox was also the climax of a love affair only a little less romantic than that of Philander Jr., the wedding taking place in Alexandria after an elopement from Washington.

A VALUABLE BULLETIN.

Not in a long time has a more practical or valuable bulletin been put out by the department of agriculture than that issued a short time ago under the caption "Replanting a Farm For Profit." It discusses a rundown Illinois farm which came to grief through a monotonous and uninterrupted rotation of corn and oats, and corn and nothing else. It explains the benefits to be derived from the growing of clover in rotation with grain crops and the use of farm and commercial fertilizers with a view to maintaining and, if possible, increasing the fertility of the soil. The bulletin gives six different types of farming that may be substituted for the usual one of corn and oats, so as to increase the income of the farm from two to five times and at the same time increase the fertility of the soil. A copy of this bulletin is worthy of the most careful personal study by thousands of agricultural farmers living in the corn belt, and they can get possession of it by writing to the congressman from their district or directly to the secretary of agriculture.

PUTS IN DAY WITH TULIPS AND PAINTINGS

Col. Roosevelt Attends Hollands Big Flower Show

ADMIRE DUTCH PEOPLE

Says They Beat Americans in Their Combination of Hard Work and Enjoyment

Amsterdam, May 2.—Mr. Roosevelt gave his entire time yesterday to an inspection of the magnificent display of tulips which are now almost at perfection, and of Dutch painting. With the members of his family, the American minister and Mrs. Beaupre, Easton Hibben, secretary of the legation, and Foreign Minister van Swinderen, he motored from The Hague to Haarlem. On either side of the road were thousands of acres of blooming tulips, great masses of color, and the air was heavy with perfume.

The national tulip show is now in progress at Haarlem, and President Kregala and the directors received the party at the entrance.

In a brief address Mr. Kregala described the exhibition and the tulip industry, pointing out that Holland shipped to America 8,200,000 pounds of bulbs yearly.

In replying, Colonel Roosevelt said: "Americans always are especially struck in Holland by the way in which you, one of the hardest working peoples of all the peoples, contrive to add beauty and enjoyment to your lives. We in America have in the past had to work so hard that we have not always been able to pay as much attention as you to things that tend to enjoyment, and, if one or the other must be sacrificed, we think that enjoyment should be sacrificed to work; but more and more we are growing to realize that beauty and enjoyment can be combined with work. Americans come here to see how you are able to combine them."

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Affairs of Interest Connected With Dr. Brunck's Parish

Last Friday evening's recital by Miss Christie and Miss Aspinwall of Troy, under the direction of the Literary and Debating society was a decided success and much enjoyed. The committee on program was elected to arrange for the opening of the fall season will be made up and printed for three months in advance. There will be no meeting during the vacation from now till October.

The Ladies Aid society will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock for the business meeting. Tonight the Ladies' Missionary societies will meet at the home of Mrs. W. D. Newell.

Tuesday afternoon the funeral of Mrs. Ruth Rockwood will be held at her late home on Park Street Extension at 1:30 p. m.

The funeral of A. F. Barber will be held from the church at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The class meeting will be held at 7:30. Following the prayer meeting on Thursday evening the Epworth League will hold its regular monthly business meeting. At this time there will be a meeting of the committee to arrange for an evening picnic and lunch which the boys and men of the Sunday school are to serve for the girls and women of the school.

BLAMES HIS SWEETHEART

Young Man Convicted of Conspiracy Says Girl Drove Him to It

Lansing, Mich., May 2.—Robert Collier, a young automobile works mechanic, upon leaving in the custody of an officer to serve a two year sentence at the Ionia reformatory for conspiracy to rob the bank at Lansingburg, Mich., blamed an unnamed sweetheart for his choosing a career of crime.

"She was not satisfied with my salary of $25 a week," he said, "and had vague ideas of getting a millionaire. She kept urging me to earn or get more money. I tried, I failed, I became frantic, I walked the streets of Detroit searching for a chance to make a lot of money by a hold-up or robbery and finally decided to rob the Lansingburg bank."

Collier's bank robbery scheme was revealed to the police by a fellow workman, whom he had befriended.

VILLAGE CLEANING DAY

Everybody Invited to Turn Out Next Saturday

The Village Improvement society recommend that a day be set apart for the people of the village to put in order the grounds and sidewalks of every dwelling, store, shop and mill. Let this day be Saturday, the 7th of May.

Let the grass be removed from every gutter and evenly trimmed where it grows outside the sidewalk. Let all hard heads be removed from the side walks. Let all ashes and rubbish be removed from back yards. Let the lawns be cut and where possible flowers and shrubs planted. It is the wish of the society that this request be heeded generally by the people of the village, that the first of June may find Old Bennington an example in civic improvement.

The grading of the land allotted the cemetery by Mortimer Hamlen is under the direction of Frank Greenslet who has for many years been a faithful caretaker of the old village cemetery.

Charles Kimball has charge of the paving of the gutter bordering one of the cemetery roads. A much needed improvement which it is hoped will prevent washing out the roadside every season.

These improvements together with the work on the Y. M. C. A. grounds are being done by the Village Improvement society.

ADMIRAL HICHBORN DEAD

Former Chief Constructor of the Navy Was 71 Years Old

Washington, May 2.—Rear Admiral Philip Hichborn, retired, who was chief constructor of the navy, died last night after a long illness. He was 71 years old.

After thirty-two years of active service Admiral Hichborn, who at the time was chief constructor of the navy, was retired in 1901 with the rank of rear admiral. One of his most important services was the preparation of the American ships for the Spanish American war. He entered the navy in 1869 as an assistant naval constructor, six years later being a full constructor, and in 1893 chief constructor.

DEATH OF MRS. J. W. HURLBUT

Passed Away Sunday Afternoon at Hillcrest Hospital.

The death of Mrs. J. W. Hurlbut occurred about 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Hillcrest hospital, Pittsfield. Death came unexpectedly as the condition of the patient up to a short time before dissolution was thought to be improving. Mrs. Hurlbut entered the hospital about three weeks ago for an operation for gall stones and in about a week later the operation was performed. The operation revealed the fact that the patient was afflicted with tubercular peritonitis.

Mrs. Hurlbut has been a highly respected resident of this village for the past seven or eight years and her death will be a severe shock to the community. She was a member of Mount Anthony Chapter, O. E. S., a regular attendant of the Second Congregational church and a member of the Universalist church at Bellows Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurlbut were married about 25 years ago at Brantree, Mass. She was before her marriage Miss Mattie Church.

Besides her husband, J. W. Hurlbut president of the Bennington Waxed Paper company, she leaves a daughter, Miss Helena Hurlbut; a son, Daniel; a sister, Mrs. Maria Church, all of Bennington, and a sister and brother residing at Bellows Falls.

The body was taken from Pittsfield to Bellows Falls this morning, where the funeral will be held Wednesday morning from the Universalist church. Rev. Mr. Leavitt, pastor, will officiate. The burial will be in the Bellows Falls cemetery.

JOHN Q. A. WARD DEAD

One of America's Greatest Sculptors Passes Away in His 80th Year

New York, May 2.—John Quincy Adams Ward, one of America's greatest sculptors, died yesterday at his residence here, in his 80th year. He had been ill for three months.

He is survived by his widow, and by a brother, Edgar Melville Ward, a painter. The body will be sent to Urbana, Ohio, where he was born, for interment.

Mr. Ward spent practically his entire life in New York city. His first teacher in the art of sculpture was Henry K. Brown, with whom he collaborated on the famous equestrian statue of Washington in Union square. Among his other well known works are equestrian statues of Sheridan and Hancock, the statues of the Indian hunter, the Pilgrim, Shakespeare, Henry Ward Beecher and Commodore Perry.

NEGRO TROOPER USED "RAZZER"

Private's Throat Badly Cut in Drunken Fracas

Burlington, May 2.—Another negro soldier razzed occurred at Winslow Saturday night when a drunken fracas was started at the home of Private Burroughs. Several troopers had gathered there and late in the evening an altercation started when Private J. A. Billingsden of Troop 1, Tenth Cavalry, drew a razor and slashed the throat of Private E. R. Jordan of Troop M, almost from ear to ear. The timely arrival of the police prevented further carnage.

The injured man was attended to by Dr. Hill, who took 19 stitches in closing the wound. Both Billingsden and Jordan were lodged in jail and other arrests are expected tomorrow.

WESTON ARRIVES AT THE END OF LONG JOURNEY

Aged Pedestrian Reached New York at Noon Today

IS IN FINE CONDITION

Completes Remarkable Walk of 3483 Miles in Good Health and Spirits

New York, May 2.—Greeted by thousands Edward Payson Weston, the aged pedestrian, swung into Broadway at noon today completing the long walk from California to New York. He appeared to be in the best of health and spirits.

Yonkers, N. Y., May 2.—Edward Payson Weston, whose untiring feet have carried him triumphantly across a continent expected to finish his remarkable walk of 3483 miles at four o'clock this afternoon. He left Yonkers at dawn for the last leg of his journey.

Weston's daughter, Mrs. Anna Hanson of New York, joined her father here yesterday.

"I was surprised at father's splendid condition," she said. "I expected to find him much thinner and a trifle weak, but instead, he is lively, in good flesh and the color of a ripe cherry. I am proud of him and I hope the American people will understand why he has made this wonderful journey, as an example to the youth of America."
